General Machine Maintenance for AM50/AM500

Always refer to your operator's manual or contact Corghi USA service department for any technical questions.

General maintenance should be performed at least monthly or more frequently based on usage.

- Under NO circumstance is your machine to be pressure washed. To clean your machine, only use mild detergents sprayed directly onto a rag.
- Keep tabletop free of any debris
- Use WD40 or equivalent (DO NOT use white lithium grease) to lube the following: finger cylinder shaft, horizontal mount/demount shaft, bead breaker cylinder shaft, vertical hex shaft, horizontal bead breaker shaft, bead pressing cylinder shaft
- Grease the following using an all-purpose shop grease: bead breaker lock levers, carriage guide rollers, bead breaker vertical shaft, bead breaker arm lock pins
- Inspect air lines and gauges for kinks and cracks
- Ensure automatic oiler bowl is full and adjusted properly (Refer to operator's manual for proper procedure). Use non-detergent SAE20 air tool oil.
